16th Annual Fall RV Show Rolling Back into Pleasanton

In This Issue

Show Details

With summer in full swing, it's hard to believe fall is right around the corner. But soon enough, the kids will be back in school, the days will grow shorter and the leaves will start to turn. That doesn't mean the end of the road for RVing, though. To the contrary, the seasoned RVer knows that the autumnal hues, crisp weather and fewer crowds makes fall a great time to hit the road. And we've been working hard to make sure you can take your fall getaway in style and without breaking the bank.

The 16th Annual Northern California Fall RV Show and Sale will roar into the Alameda County Fairgrounds Sept. 24 through Oct. 3, offering you the best prices and most impressive selection with numerous dealers all under one roof ready to wheel and deal. For 10 days, our indoor show will feature deals on all kinds of RVs, ranging from towables to motorhomes.

We know times are still tough, but the fact remains that RVing is one of the most inexpensive vacation options out there. It's one of those buy now, save for years down the road situations and for those of you who can buy now, this show will give you the most bang for your hard-earned buck.

Watch your inbox for upcoming newsletters, where we'll fill you in on show news and share some of the RVing tips and trip suggestions we've gained over our two decades in the business.

And for those of you still on your summer RV trips, check out this list of the best (and worst) California has to offer the outdoor enthusiast.

Happy RVing!
